Are You Suffering from March Madness?

March may be a month of madness for more than just college basketball players! Has your evergrowing to-do list overwhelmed you? Dr. Roy King has put together a five part series, "Time Management Equals Life Management," that can be found on his website. He encourages readers to give their time to the Lord and reminds them of the Scriptural basis of rest. Read Dr. King's articles here www.royking.org

When God Goes to Starbucks

Come hear Dr. Paul Copan, author of When God Goes to Starbucks, an apologetics book geared towards the everyday reader (Amazon.com), on April 7-9 at 10:50 a.m. in Shortess Chapel. A CIU graduate of 1984 and the chair of philosophy and ethics at Palm Beach Atlantic University, Copan is a highly engaging speaker. Learn more at www.paulcopan.com.

Students Impacting the Community

CIU students are applying what they are learning while they are still in school. The State, Columbia's local newspaper, covered one of their many outreaches across the city. Read how students are making a difference through an English as a Second Language program: www.thestate.com/local/story/662733.html

CIU Prof on the Radio

Many of us have tuned our eyes and ears towards the news in the Sway Valley of Pakistan where Shariah Law is being implemented. Recently, Dr. Warren Larson, director of the Zwemer Center for Muslim Studies at CIU, has been invited to speak to this issue on various radio programs.
