

Graduate assistantships provide scholarship assistance for full-time graduate-level students while also giving them opportunities to grow in one or more areas of professional competence related to their chosen program of study. Students selected for an assistantship receive scholarship money at the beginning of each semester instead of a monthly paycheck. Candidates for assistantships are selected in the spring prior to the academic year and must reapply each year. Interested students must complete the assistantship application by the deadline posted on the Financial Aid website.

The following is a list of tasks that a Graduate Assistant might undertake:

- Resident Course Administration:
  - Prepare and submit Library Reserve and Textbook Order forms
  - Prepare class roster in grade book
  - Record and calculate grades of student course work
  - Help prepare instructional materials
  - Prepare PowerPoint presentations for class
  - Develop and maintain course website
- Distance and Online Course Administration:
  - Perform tasks related to course development (secure copyright permissions, prepare instructional material)
  - Develop and maintain course website
  - Serve as course contact person for students
  - Monitor course discussion forums
- Advising:
  - Maintain current advisee lists with contact information
  - Act as liaison to advisees, keeping them updated on academic administrative matters
- Recruitment:
  - Contact prospective students in routine matters using materials prepared by faculty
  - Perform tasks in support of activities cultivating and sustaining relationships with leveraged partners
- Scholarly Work Support:
  - Provide bibliographical updates in support of courses and research
  - Perform tasks in support of scholarly research and writing
